ALPHA SIGMA PHI TO RECHARTER AT EAST CAROLINA

Colony Members Met Expectations

Greenville, North Carolina –The members of the Delta Eta colony at East Carolina University have worked to achieve the chartering benchmarks of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity.

The colony has over 70 members making them one of the largest of East Carolina's seventeen chapters. The group has worked together to not only meet, but exceed chartering benchmarks.

Recruitment has been a strong point for the men, the colony has experienced tremendous growth since spring 2013. They value academics and have a colony GPA that surpasses the all-men's GPA. The colony operates on a healthy budget and they are financially sound.

The Delta Eta colony is passionate about service and philanthropy. The men started participating in the Boys and Girls club basketball program. Every Thursday and Friday various brothers go to the local boys and girls club and participate in several activities including sporting events, homework help and board games. Together they colony raised $1,000 for Relay for Life through the East Carolina University campus event and is already planning on supporting the Fraternity's new philanthropic partners.

"When the colony is chartered, which I expect to be this fall, I believe the chapter will not only be one of the top chapters on ECU's campus, but one of the top chapters within Alpha Sigma Phi," said Keith Tingley Director of Greek Life, East Carolina University.

The colony developed a strategic plan that focuses on a several key areas of growth including recruitment, philanthropy, continuous alumni engagement, and service. This will help them as they transition to being a chartered chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi.
